The stock market to-day was again very dull, the business of the day being the smallest for a full day for many weeks, while the fluctuations were strictly in harmony with the trading, and again there is not a single change of note from last night's figures. The speculative spirit, for the time being, seems entirely dead, but money is extremely easy and the banks have accumulated a surplus which would insure ease for months to come and with such an amount of money lying idle there is likely to be a renewal of the speculation before the April settlements come along. London came lower this morning, and in the absence of any demand from domestic sources, although London was not a seller here, the traders, who now control the making of quotations, opened the market off from 1s to 5s per cent. with considerable pressure upon a few leading stocks in the early dealings. There was a dearth of offerings, however, at the prices established and there was an effort to get back the stocks put out which had the effect of stiffening up the temper of the market im-mediately, and except in a few stocks the early losses were regained. The industrials were the most prominent features and Chicago Gas, for a time, displayed some strength, rising 78 per cent., the moving force being the reorganization and compromise with the city. This failed to furnish vim to the stock after 12 o'clock, however, and all the improvment was lost, with something in addition, the stock becoming quite weak in the last hour. Lead was also sold down late in the day. New England was, if anything, the strongest in the railroad list, while considerable pressure upon Atchison forced it off a fraction. One of the features of the day was the offering down of San Francisco first preferred to 59 bid. It later the general list, while displaying some weakness among the leaders. Railroad bonds to-day were rather more active, but the business of the day amounted to only $1,160,000, which was divided among a large number of issues. There was also more strength displayed than in shares, and while the important changes are few in number, they are generally in the direction of higher prices.

Government bonds were dull and steady. State bonds were dull and firm. Closing sold at 61 against 70 last week, but a later sale was made at 6212. The rest of the list was very dull and featureless throughout.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Grain Markets Open Weak, but Stiffen Up-Hog Products Lower. CHICAGO, Jan. 21.-When trading started this morning there were sellers at 94120 good deal of confident buying at from 94140 to 943sc, and before long an advance to 947sc took place. The foregoing changes were followed by a decline to 9412c, an advance to 9434c, another set-back to 9414c, and a bulge which had reached 95e by 12 o'clock. The cable advices indicated a hardening tendency at Liverpool, and considerable firmness in the French country markets. The extreme cold weather recently prevailing in England had given place to a higher range of temperature as indicated by the weather being described as cold and wet. The previous cold, dry weather had been very favorable for the marketing of native wheat by the English farmers, and the weather conditions now advised will have an opposite effect; freer purchases of foreign sorts are therefore to be expected. The frost damage to the French crop was repeated in some cable dispatches and denied in others, but the prevailing opinion was that serious damage has resulted. Attention has not yet been forcibly drawn to a similar state of affairs which the Russian correspondents of English houses have been advising for a month back as prevailing in south Russia. The "bears" brought forward a story to the effect that elevator men in the Northwest were holding back the grain in country elevators in order to make an artificial scarcity. The first advance was on Brad-street's report that the visible supply had decreased 1,759,000 bu during the week. A private telegram was received from San Francisco, saying that only four and one-half inches of rain had fallen in the wheat district of California, against an average of fourteen inches. Subsequently wheat sagged to 94120, but strengthened on reports of considerable export business. The feature of the day in corn was the taking of profits by "shorts." The range in May was 51% to 52c at the opening to 51%, and

The price advanced to 457sc, declined to 451ge, reacted to 46c, and closed 1ge above yesterday, at 457sc bid. There was fair The first estimate on the day's receipts of ogs, as reported from the yards, was 42,000 head, with prices 10 to 15c lower. This was enough to give the provision market a weak start at a decline from the previous day's closing price. The early weakness was added to later when the day's receipts of hogs were reported at 50,000. Armour and other packers were sellers. The close showed declines of 15c to pork, .0212@.05c in lard and .0712c in ribs. The leading futures ranged as follows:

then up to 5214. May oats opened at 451oc.

Spring Plowing.

plowing, for the later plowing will only serve to reduce the soil to a finer condition. No doubt an objection may be urged against plowing at a time when the ground may be wet, but the frost will pulverize the lumps and make the soil mellow. To plow early, leave the ground in the rough, and cross-plow later, then harrow down fine for the crop, will be of great advantage to the crop, allowing more plant food, lessening the damage from drought and warming the soil, as well as preventing the baking of the top soil to a certain extent.

When the manure is not decomposed in the heap it must decompose in the soil be-fore the plants can utilize it as food, and the sooner the manure is spread the better it will be for the crop. As it is difficult to spread manure on plowed ground, owing to the labor of hauling over the rough, soft ground, the method practiced by those who plow twice is to spread the manure on the plow twice is to spread the manure on the unplowed ground, plow it under, and leave the ground in the rough (not harrowing), and when the ground is cross-plowed later on the manure is more intimately mixed with the soil. The early plowing also destroys cutworms and grubs, and allows the frost to go down deeper into the ground. It may be mentioned that the frost will pulverize the soil much better than can be done by any mechanical process, and it will done by any mechanical process, and it will save labor if allowed to work on the clods and lumps, which are reduced by the expansion and contraction of cold and heat.

To plow twice instead of once appears laborious, but it is not economical to withhold any labor or other expense that will result in a gain later on. If better results can be derived from the manure, and the ground can be worked more easily in the summer by reason of the excellent condition of the soil (due to the careful early preparation) the labor of the summer season will be lessened, the only increase of labor being in harvesting the larger crop, to which no farmer will have any objection.
